Marvin Rosen has centered his performance and outreach activities on little-known music of the twentieth and twenty-first centuries from all over the world. He has presented recitals, lecture recitals, and both radio performances and interviews in New York, Philadelphia, Boston, in Poland, and at the Phillips Collection in Washington, DC. He has performed recitals devoted to the music of Alan Hovhaness in Princeton, Chicago, and New York. He has also performed four recitals for Piano By Nature in Elizabethtown, NY - the first two with his duo partner at the time, Jennifer Castellano, and the final two devoted to thirty-one solo miniatures by living woman composers. Mr. Rosen has recorded two CDs of piano music by Alan Hovhaness and a CD of contemporary music for piano four-hands.

Since 1997 Mr. Rosen has been the host of the weekly radio program Classical Discoveries on WPRB (103.3 FM). The program won the prestigious ASCAP Deems Taylor Radio Broadcast Award in 2005. Between 2011 and 2015 he was a board member of the Media Council of New Music USA, and from 2012 until 2019 was an honorary member of the board of New York Women Composers. In 2013, he received the Distinguished Musician Alumni Award from TCNJ.

Marvin Rosen earned his bachelor's degree in music and music education from Trenton State College, his master's degree in musicology from the Manhattan School of Music, and his doctorate in music education from Teachers' College, Columbia University. His private teachers have included Shirley Batchelor and Karl Ulrich Schnabel.
