An Apostle in Prison: Paul's Letter to the Philippians

This Lent, Adult Education will explore Paul's Letter to the Philippians, a short but profound letter written from prison. Reading one chapter each week, we will consider how faith, joy, suffering, and hope take shape in the life of the early church and in our own lives today. Together with preaching and small groups, this study invites us into a shared season of reflection and conversation.

Get Linked-In for Lent as Adult Education, Small Groups, and our preaching life are shaped by Paul's prison letters and their enduring hope.

An Apostle in Prison

Matt Novenson

Sundays, 9:30 AM Assembly Room

Join us each Sunday morning as Matt Novenson leads a close reading of Paul's Letter to the Philippians, exploring faith, suffering, and joy in the life of the early church.

Matthew Novenson is the Helen H. P. Manson Professor of New Testament at Princeton Theological Seminary. Before that, he was Professor of Biblical Criticism and Biblical Antiquities at the University of Edinburgh, UK. His books include Christ among the Messiahs (Oxford, 2012), The Grammar of Messianism (Oxford, 2017), Paul, Then and Now (Eerdmans, 2022), and Paul and Judaism at the End of History (Cambridge, 2024). He is presently writing a commentary on Paul's Letter to the Philippians.

For Such a Time as This: Christian Existence in our Current State of Emergency

Hanna Reichel

How do we live faithfully amid rising authoritarianism and the erosion of democratic culture? Hanna Reichel draws on Scripture and historical examples such as the Confessing Church to explore spiritual grounding, communal discernment, and Christian courage in challenging times.

Hanna Reichel is the Charles Hodge Professor of Systematic Theology at Princeton Theological Seminary. A ruling elder in the PC(USA), Reichel also serves on the Theology Working Group of the World Communion of Reformed Churches. For Such a Time as This: An Emergency Devotional is their first book for a wider audience.

We are pleased that Dr. Reichel is available to reschedule after being snowed out in December! Copies of their book, For Such a Time as This: An Emergency Devotional are available for purchase for $15. Contact Lauren Yeh in the church office (lyeh@nassauchurch.org, x106) or look for the book sales table in the Assembly Room in late March.
